

There's no need to go through life dragging a criminal record behind you like a heavy piece of unwanted baggage! Why should childhood shenanigans or grown-up peccadilloes continue to weigh against you for years to end? We all make mistakes — and one of the biggest mistakes those with criminal records can ever make is disregarding the information set forth in William Rinehart's How To Clear Your Adult and Juvenile Criminal Records.

This book clearly spells out which steps must be taken to clear both adult and juvenile records, breakdowns of the statutes and laws which must be noted. No one has ever codified this essential information into one source-book, until now.

William Rinehart has created a modern American masterpiece of self-help literature that can change the life of any convicted person who reads it and follows the simple directions it contains. We can't go back in time and eliminate our mistakes — but we can do the next best thing, and rectify them.

William Rinehart is well-qualified to dispense advice on the best ways to clear one's criminal records. He's a dues-paying member of the convicted class, with two felony convictions and more than 30 misdemeanors to his credit — before he took the necessary steps to cleanse his adult and juvenile criminal records! Now Rinehart's criminal records are purged of serious offenses, he has all the rights and privileges that American citizens are meant to enjoy under the Constitution, and he reveals his hard-earned secrets in How To Clear Your Adult and Juvenile Criminal Records.

My Qualifications To Write This Book

If I were going to buy a book entitled How To Clear Your Adult and Juvenile Criminal Records, I would want to know several things first — like did the author ever actually “clear” a criminal record? Don’t I need a lawyer? Can I do it like he did? What makes this author better than the lawyers?

Good questions that need answers.

When I started “clearing” my own criminal record I had a seven-page FBI “rap sheet,” (FBI Number 767-116F) with three felony convictions and over 30 misdemeanors on it. Let that sink in for a minute. I had been in prison (Ohio Number 141525). Between Ohio and Louisiana, I was looking at 60 years “Hard Time” if I had “maxxed out.” I was looking at the “Three-Time Loser” law and Life if I didn’t do something.

How To Clear Your Adult and Juvenile Criminal Records

I “did” something. In 1988, I expunged a Louisiana felony conviction. The Court refused, but I took it to the State Supreme Court — and won. The FBI refused to erase it — but I forced them to. In 1991, I expunged it again. Then I got a pardon for the same conviction — but the pardon didn’t include the Right To Bear Arms — so I got it pardoned again. I received two gold-seal pardons* for a record that didn’t legally exist — and erased a felony from the records of the FBI. That was all Louisiana business.

In Ohio — on another Felony conviction — I found that a single felony had been duplicated on the FBI Records. It looked like I had two Ohio felony convictions two years apart. I Motioned to the Ohio court to “correct” the records — and place just one felony where it should be. But, I wanted the Right To Bear Arms, so I Motioned Ohio for Relief From Disability — and got it. Then I applied for a full pardon from Ohio — and got it.

In the meantime, I was in college, and the FBI Records were beginning to shrink. I kept writing to every place that I had a record and getting them erased.

I obtained a B.S. Degree in Criminal Justice, went to law school in California — and hated it. I went to grad school in Mississippi — and hated it. I became a State Corrections Officer (Prison Guard) in the same place where I had been an inmate. Everybody (inmates) knew me. I trained at Angola — the Louisiana State Penitentiary. I became a private security guard — licensed.

I worked for VisionQuest of America — with a Child Abuse Clearance from the FBI. I worked on the National Household Drug Abuse Survey for the Department of Health and Human Services, and the U.S. Census Bureau.

I adopted two children from Mexico — after an FBI Record check.

So, then, after I did all of that without a lawyer, I figured I had to know something nobody else did — including the lawyers.

Now, my FBI record is two pages long, with a total of five entries — one of them a duplicate — and I enjoy all the rights that other citizens do (see In Regards to Author's Current Record at the book's end).

I guess that “qualifies” me to write this book, doesn't it?

Chapter Two

Steps To Take To Clear Your Record

Prior to beginning to clear your criminal record, it is very necessary that you know exactly what appears on your record. You may think you know, but this is not the time for surprises. You will need (1) a current copy of your FBI record, and (2) a copy of the Court Minutes of each case you are clearing.

To get a copy of your FBI record:

1. From any local law enforcement agency, obtain a set of your fingerprints.
2. Write a letter requesting a copy of your FBI Criminal Record. Be sure to include your full name, date of birth, Social Security number, place of birth, any and all other names you have ever used. Be sure to sign it in ink.
3. Obtain a money order in the amount of $18.00, made out to the U.S. Treasury Department.

How To Clear Your Adult And Juvenile Criminal Records

4. Place your fingerprint card, your letter of request for the record, and the $18.00 money order in a large envelope and mail it, First Class, to:

Federal Bureau of Investigation
Identification Division
Washington, D.C. 20537-9700.

(If you do not have the $18.00, request a Fee Waiver.)

Wait until you have your FBI Record before going any further.

On your FBI record, you will find the places (city & state) where you were charged with a crime, the date, and the charge(s). You will need to contact each of those places' Clerk of Court, Criminal Division, to get a copy of your Court Minutes. Usually a telephone call will work. When phoning, be sure that you get the Court's address, to mail your Motion To Expunge/Seal to.

From the information you got from your Court Minutes, in each case, fill in the blank Motion in this chapter with the correct information — step-by-step, number-by-number. Make three copies of it after it's filled out.

Send the Original Motion to the Clerk of Court where your record is on file. Attach a copy of the Court Minutes to the Motion.

Send a copy of your Motion to the prosecutor (find his/her name in your Court Minutes) in your case. With the copy to the prosecutor, write a letter asking for "Concurrence" — in other words asking him/her to allow you to clear your record.

Chapter Two
Steps To Take To Clear Your Record

Keep a copy of everything for yourself.

Filing Fees: There may be a charge from the Clerk of Court to file your Motion. If you do not have the money for fees, ask the Clerk for the papers to proceed in forma pauperis, which allows you to file for free. You cannot be kept out of Court just for being poor.

When sending your Motion to the Court, write a note asking that a copy of your Motion stamped "FILED" be sent back to you. It's important that you know it got there and that it will be given to your judge.

After that, all you can do is wait until the Court has made its decision on your case. It is very important that when you send your Motion you also send an ORDER (found in this chapter) along with it. If you don't, the Clerk will send the Motion back to you and ask for one.

What you're looking for is the Signed Order to come back to you. If it's signed, your record is CLEARED. If it's denied, the Court has to tell you why.

There are methods of appeal — too lengthy to explain here — but it can be done. I've done it. I won. You can too.

Instructions for Filling in and Filing Your Motion

BEFORE YOU DO ANYTHING, obtain a copy of the Court Minutes from the court that has your arrest record. This is an official document that has your docket number, charge(s), name, the date of your arrest, and the sentence you received. It also has the judge's name, the prosecutor's name, and the court reporter's name. You will need a copy of this document to file with your motion(s).

Using your Court Minutes (obtained from the Clerk of Court where your record is), fill in the blanks of the motion as follows:

1. In blank space #1, fill in the name of the STATE exactly as it appears on your Court Minutes.
2. In blank space #2, write the NAME or number of the District Court, exactly as it appears on you Court Minutes.
3. In blank space #3, fill in the DOCKET NUMBER exactly as it appears on your Court Minutes.
4. In blank space #4, write the name of the COUNTY/Parish where you were arrested.
5. In blank space #5, write your NAME exactly as it appears on your Court Minutes.
6. In blank space #6, write the NAME of the CITY where the Court is located.
7. In blank space #7, write exactly what the Motion is you are filing, i.e., Expungement, Sealing of Record, Purging of Record, etc. (Look up your State later in this chapter).

Chapter Two
Steps To Take To Clear Your Record

8. In blank space #8, write the exact laws or statutes you need to cite in order to accomplish what you want — using your State Laws guideline included in this chapter.
9. In blank space #9, write your street address.
10. In blank space #10, write your City, State and Zip code.

BE SURE THAT YOU SIGN YOUR MOTION!!!

When you have finished filling out the form, take it or mail it to the Clerk of Court, Criminal Division, where your record is, and file it into your record. There may be a filing fee. If you do not have the money, ask the clerk for the forms to file in forma pauperis (for free). BE SURE that you have attached a copy of your Court Minutes to your Motion. Be sure that you have put your address or telephone number somewhere where the clerk can see it so you can be contacted for a Hearing, or Notice of Trial. For more information, see the SAMPLE MOTION that follows.

GOOD LUCK!!

Certainly, it appears that there are NO Adult laws for Expungement or Sealing in North Dakota, as well as NO Civil Remedies reported to the U.S. Department of Justice. In this case, I would file a 1983 Civil Rights Action against the State of North Dakota for Deprivation of Civil Rights By Persons Acting Under Color of State Authority, in Federal Court, and serve the Original court of Jurisdiction where your criminal records are on file. I would challenge the Record through 28 CFR Part 20, and N.D. 12-16.3, for Access & Challenge. I would then ask in Open Court why there are no Expungement or Sealing laws in North Dakota, and where is Rehabilitation supposed to be recognized, and under what Conditions? Under "Pardon"? For First Offense? The lack of Expungement & Sealing laws in North Dakota leave open a viable avenue for a "Class Action" Civil Suit for those with criminal records. The State of North Dakota is Discriminating against a "Class" of citizens — every single one that has a criminal record — not just for a conviction, but just for being arrested. North Dakota has no Civil Remedies on the law books.

Federal Statutory Law(s)

No federal statutes provide a definitive or comprehensive right to seal or purge (Expunge) Federal (FBI) Criminal History Records. The WRIT of "coram nobis" [28 U.S.C. Section 1651], aka Writs of Error, permits federal courts to correct, amend, or delete erroneous facts in FBI criminal justice records. In addition, Plaintiffs have been successful in using the Federal "CIVIL RIGHTS ACT" [1871 (42 U.S.C. Section 1983)] to obtain the purging and sealing of Illegal or Improper Arrests.

31

The Federal Criminal Justice Regulations (like their counterpart — JSIA Regulations) also permit subjects of Federal Criminal History Records to seek the correction, amendment, or in some cases the deletion of inaccurate or incomplete information [28 CFR (Code of Federal Regulations) Section 16.32].

Finally, the Federal "Privacy Act of 1974" may, in some cases give subjects of Federal Criminal History Records a right to review, amend, or delete inaccurate or incomplete information. (Call CRCI for Case cites. CRCI is meant to be the Criminal Record Clearance Information telephone number for the Clearinghouse. Until it is in use, please use 1-318-984-6046, my home telephone number.)

Plaintiff Brief on Duties and Responsibilities of STATE Criminal History Record Reporting Agencies, Under United States Department of Justice Federal Regulation 28, Part 20, "Criminal Justice Information Systems"

MAY IT PLEASE THE COURT, the following information is for the convenience of the Court. In order to establish the states' responsibilities to the Federal Government (FBI), in the content, timeliness, and accuracy of State law enforcement agencies' submissions to the Federal Government, Plaintiff now presents the following information for this Court's consideration: 28 CFR, Part 20:

Subpart A — General Purpose

"It is the purpose of these regulations to assure that criminal history record information wherever it appears is collected, stored, and disseminated in a manner to insure completeness, integrity, accuracy and security of such information and to 'protect individual privacy'."

Subpart B — State and Local Criminal History Record Information Systems:

tion has been funded in whole or part with funds made available by (LEAA) or other Federal Program assistance since (LEAA).”

§20.21 “Preparation and Submission of a Criminal History Record Information Plan.”

The “Plan” shall set forth operational procedures to:

(1.) Complete records should be maintained at a central STATE Repository. To be complete, a record maintained at a central STATE repository which contains information that an individual has been arrested, and which is available for Dissemination, must contain information of any Dispositions occurring within the STATE within 90 days after the Disposition has occurred.”

(2.) To be Accurate means that no record containing criminal history record information shall contain erroneous information.

§20.24 STATE laws on privacy and security

“Where a STATE originating criminal history record information provides for sealing or purging thereof, nothing in these Regulations shall be construed to prevent any other STATE receiving such information, upon Notification, from complying with the Originating STATE’s Sealing or Purging Requirements.”

§20.24 Penalties

“Any agency or individual violating Subpart ‘B’ of these Regulations shall be subject to a fine not to exceed $10,000.00 (for each offense). In addition, OJARS may initiate Fund Cut-off procedures against recipients of OJARS Assistance.”

Chapter Three

Current FBI Record Of The Author

My FBI record was seven pages long when it was all in one piece, before I began clearing my record. In all, it at one time had some 17 arrests and/or convictions on it. Two of those were convictions for felonies; one in Louisiana, one in Ohio.

The CURRENT FBI record has but five "Entries." (Remember that my FBI record mistakenly contained three felony convictions — I could have been imprisoned for Life under the "three times and you're out!!" law!)

I did a little work since Chapter One, "My Qualifications to Write This Book," was written. I challenged the Ohio law enforcement authorities — because they had submitted duplicate copies of my conviction of 1973 — and had not "posted" my Ohio pardon, or my Louisiana pardon(s).

In the Ohio Court, I submitted a Motion for Correction of Record — and had the pardon(s) posted, along with my Relief From Disability. Soon thereafter, both appeared on my record. (See the letter from Ohio Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation, to the FBI.)

Entry #1 on the new FBI record shows a Pardon and Relief from Disability from having a record — the offense dated 08/13/73.

Entry #2 on the new FBI record is a misdemeanor — not something I worry about.

Entry #3 is a duplicate of Entry #1, but was reported when I went to prison.

Entry #4 was reduced to a misdemeanor.

Entry #5 was a misdemeanor — with the charges dropped.

Record last updated 11/28/95.

Notice that there is nothing about Louisiana on the FBI record.

I think I have come a long way. You can do the same.

Mr. Rinehart:

I am in receipt of your letter dated November 27, 1995, concerning the expungement of your May 1993 arrest for burglary. Our legal responsibility was fulfilled in December 1988 when the Lafayette Police Department filed an affidavit with the Fifteenth Judicial District Court indicating our compliance with the Order of Expungement signed by Judge Bennett Gautreaux.

Since the 1992 Order of Expungement was directed to the Louisiana State Police and the Federal Bureau of Investigations, we were never served with the expungement order, however, that is irrelevant since we complied with the 1988 Order.

Your claim that it is our responsibility to notify the FBI and the Department of Public Safety is not correct. Both agencies are separate and apart from the City of Lafayette.

Concerning your pardons, this agency does not maintain disposition records. We would not have been in a position to take any action that involves pardons.

We have met our duty and legal requirements by expunging the two arrests ordered expunged in 1988, and cannot be held liable for the actions of the FBI or State Police.

Part Two
How To Clear
Your Juvenile
Criminal Record

Chapter One

Introduction

It is commonly believed that a juvenile criminal record is destroyed or sealed and forgotten about when an adolescent reaches his/her "Age of Majority" in his/her home state — be it 16, 17, 18, or 19 years of age. It is a very big mistake to believe that. It is also a dangerous mistake to believe that juvenile criminal records are not and cannot be legally used in an adult court. A lot of times, the juvenile records are the only records that a judge has to go by — even in an adult criminal court, and the judges don't think twice about using them. Frequently, especially in a "First-Offender" adult case, the adult's juvenile records are used to set bail, decide the charges, and accept or deny a plea bargain arrangement. Without a juvenile record in First Offense cases, a judge has little to go by.

How To Clear Your Adult And Juvenile Criminal Record

There are many states that have laws and statutes about using juvenile records — and the sealing or destruction of them. All states have a separate section to handle juvenile offenders, and the treatment of juvenile records. But, to believe that the courts automatically seal or destroy the juvenile records without a separate motion is the most dangerous belief of all. They do not. You must take a juvenile record back to Court to get it sealed or erased.

There is no court that has the time or equipment to mark each and every juvenile's birthday and go back and erase or seal their record when they reach adulthood. It would take too much of the court employees' time, so it is left up to the juvenile records subject (you) to bring his/her record back into court on a motion to get it sealed or expunged. If you don't bring the record back into court — it stays on record.

This book is designed for anyone to use — without the cost of attorney's fees. It contains exact instructions to follow in preparing a motion, the juvenile records laws and statutes for each state, and the qualifications for each state that has an "expunge," "purge," or "seal" statute for juvenile criminal records. It is a step-by-step guide to "clear" juvenile criminal records.

Be aware that laws are not just "dead" words — they are subject to change. Before you file any court motion, be sure that you are using the current law that applies to your case. Simply call any law library and ask.

Chapter One
Introduction

Use this book to get a new start with your life. Use it wisely — use it now.

Chapter Two

Foreword

There is a "movement" afoot in the United States, and if it goes any further it will have a devastating effect on our nation's children. Law enforcement agencies from the Federal Bureau of Investigation down to the tiniest little town police departments are setting out to "merge" or put together, all adult and juvenile criminal records. In other words, there will be no way to tell the difference between a mistake that a child made from the deliberate acts of an adult — by viewing the record. Juvenile records will no longer be stamped "Confidential," and be kept away from public viewing or use. All arrests — regardless of age — will be open to anyone who wants to view them. That is why it is important to act now on juvenile records — before they become a part of your adult record.

Please, take a moment to read the following excerpt from a conference on "Juvenile And Adult Records: One System, One Record?", 1990, (NCJ-114947, 1990).

(On) "DESTROYING REHABILITATION"

"First, the [One Person/One Record] System would destroy it [the chance for rehabilitation] because it would have the effect of destroying the ability to rehabilitate children who have made an error in judgment by making it impossible to develop resources to work with these children. To have One Person/One Record, the public will perceive children as Criminals and equate them as Adult Criminals committing crimes in the community. This will have the effect of decreasing, if not completely eliminating, funds which would (normally) be available to develop programs and resources to rehabilitate children. (Funding would be re-directed into building more prisons and jails.)

"Many children engage in conduct without knowing or actually realizing that their behavior is criminal. In neighborhoods you see toilet paper thrown all over a yard. You find mailboxes knocked down. Youths go out and shoplift for the purpose of getting into a prestigious (gang) organization, (and to get a record to impress 'significant others') — or they carry a gun or some other kind of weapon just to be the 'big' person on their 'block', (Ofttimes not using the weapon, but just to be 'big.'). Their behavior may be done on a dare or a threat, or because 'everybody's doin' it,' or for a thrill, or out of ignorance. Ofttimes, when the court asks why it was done, the answer is, 'I don't really know — I had no reason for doing it.'

"In most cases, there is no predetermined plot, or plan, or even thought put into the actions. There is no 'Mens rea' — or Criminal Intent." (From "The Impact of a Merged Record on the Mission of the Court", written by Judge Romae T. Powell, Fulton County Juvenile Court, Atlanta, Georgia.)

There is a definite change in the way our nation is viewing our children. In the past, the philosophy has been that of "Parens Patrae," or the government was the ultimate parent to the juvenile alone — being responsible for all of his actions. That is changing — from "In The Best Interest Of The Child" to "In The Best Interest of the Community." The children are going to be the ones to do the suffering in the future.

As always, the future looms ahead of us adults — and we are the ones that make the plans for the next generation. We plan for these children — who will in turn plan for their children. The "Plan" we have now will destroy the "Age of Innocence" for those children who make mistakes.

The government is going to take the funds away from the children and build more prisons — rather than concentrate on saving their future. More iron bars and steel doors instead of more Boys' & Girls' Clubs. The only "number" a child will have to know to graduate from juvenile delinquency to adult criminal will be the one posted on his criminal records and his mail.

Use this book now, while it is still possible to clear a juvenile record. Laws change everyday — and you might not have the chance to start over tomorrow.

Chapter Three

Exactly Who Is A Juvenile?

To answer that question, we must turn to the State Statutes. Not every state has the same definition, nor treats juvenile records in the same way. As an example, and to point out the seriousness of having a juvenile criminal history record, I will use the California Penal Code.

In the California Penal Code, under the section, "Children," Welfare and Institution Code, Article 13.6, "Serious Offenders," §506, page 1370, Division 2:

§506. Juvenile Criminal History; Procedures Requiring Check of History of Adults Presented to District Attorney's Office for Filing; Charges, Pleas, Sentence.

"Law enforcement agencies and District Attorneys participating in programs funded pursuant to this Article [above] Shall adopt procedures to require a check of Juvenile History of all ADULTS whose cases are presented to the District Attorney's Office for filing. The Juvenile Criminal History Information shall be considered by the District Attorney in the Charging decision and establishing the District Attorney's position on the appropriateness of Pleas and Sentencing."

Let me clear that up a little; it means that if you're arrested as an adult, the prosecutor goes to your juvenile record to decide how you should be treated in all phases of Trial. In that kind of situation, you never were a "Juvenile."

But to answer the question, "who is a juvenile?", it's a matter of court jurisdiction. It is a matter, believe it or not, of a birthday. By law, you are a "juvenile" until the day after your state says that you are an Adult. Juvenile jurisdiction ends when the law says it ends — unless a court rules differently. It's not necessarily the same thing.

As a "Ward of the Court," you have different rights as compared to adult jurisdiction. However, as a juvenile, you stand a much better chance of "clearing" your record — use the opportunity wisely.

Juveniles With Criminal Records

In 1975, in the United States, 641,189 juveniles were admitted to and discharged from public juvenile facilities (juvenile halls, juvenile detention centers, etc.). Every one of them has or had a juvenile criminal record.

In 1990, 683,636 juveniles were admitted to public juvenile facilities. When they left the facility, they, too, had a juvenile criminal record. The figures are not out yet for 1996, but it is obvious there will be an increase — as there has been for every year. The “average,” then, per year, for a child to receive a juvenile criminal record, is 662,412. Multiply that times 20 (20 years between 1975 and 1995), and you get 13,248,250, plus the year 1996. That makes it almost 14 million juveniles that have obtained criminal record arrest histories in the last 20 years. That is a good enough reason to write this book.

How To Clear Your Adult And Juvenile Criminal Records

The age at which a child can legally be sentenced to death in South Dakota is at 10 years of age. That too is a good enough reason to write this book. Of the 33 inmates in the United States that were on "Death Row" who were juveniles, at the end of 1993, for offenses when they were 17 or younger: twenty-six were 17 at the time of their offense. Six juveniles were 16. One was 15. That alone is a good enough reason to write this book.

"Bobby Nestor was sent to Camp Hill correctional facility, an adult prison, to 'learn a lesson'. After more than four months of incarceration, he hung himself after being sexually assaulted by adult inmates." (OJJDP Juvenile Justice, Fall/Winter 1995, Volume II, Number 2, page 24.) And that is a good enough reason to write this book.

And, now, we have a 6-year-old being held in custody in California — under court order. And that is certainly a good enough reason to write this book.

Not that I needed any real good reasons — I have adopted two children from Mexico, and I worry about them all the time. And my profession is criminal justice, with my forte being juvenile Justice. It is right that I worry.

Chapter Five

Facts About Juvenile Criminal Records Expungement Laws

All but two states have some statutory provision for annulment of a juvenile record. These provisions are of two main types: laws providing for sealing the record and laws calling for expungement or destruction of the record.

- Twenty-one states' laws provide for record sealing.
- Twenty-four states' laws call for record expungement.
- Two states provide for both procedures, depending on the age of the individual. One state provides for both mechanisms, depending on the seriousness of the juvenile disposition.
- One state's laws provides simply for a juvenile disposition to be "set aside" (Michigan).

In 40 states, application of these laws is discretionary (not mandatory). In eight states, expungement or sealing is mandatory. A few laws provide for annulment while the individual is still a juvenile; most do not take effect until the individual is an adult. In three states, a subsequent (an arrest after the record has been sealed or expunged) automatically results in the unsealing of a sealed record — including one state where the sealing of the record is mandatory.

Forty states authorize fingerprinting of juveniles.

Twenty-two states in 1994 adopted laws making it easier to prosecute juveniles in adult criminal courts.

- ◆ Every state provides for prosecutor and/or court access to juvenile records of adult defendants at some point in the judicial process. In 48 states, this authority is explicit.
- ◆ There is a distinct and ever-growing movement to combine juvenile and adult criminal records into one file — destroying the protection of juveniles from adult court, adult prosecutors, and the separation of different treatment for different age groups. [“Juvenile and Adult Records: One System One Record?”, BJS/SEARCH Conference]

In 1988, 7000 juvenile delinquency cases were waived to adult criminal court — in 1992, 11,700 cases were waived — an increase of 68%. It's getting easier to prosecute children in adult courts.

- ◆ Most people are under the impression that their juvenile criminal records will be sealed or erased without them having to do anything. That is completely false. Most people believe that their juvenile criminal records can never be used against them — in court or anywhere else — and that is completely wrong. (See Mug Shots, the book of booking photos of Al Pacino, Tim Allen, Larry King, etc., now in bookstores.) They didn't bother to clear their juvenile criminal records — or adult records.

Chapter Six

Steps To Take To Clear Your Record

If you, or someone you know, has a juvenile criminal arrest record, and you want to do something about it — now — either get it sealed or expunged, out of the public eye where it can do you no harm — the “doing” is not as complicated or difficult as you might think. It takes no special education to type a motion and file it in juvenile court — or to talk to a judge or prosecutor about your case. Only in complicated cases should you retain legal counsel. Otherwise, you have everything you need in this book.

Certain steps need to be followed, just as in any other legal proceeding.

First, you will need to know where your juvenile criminal record is kept. You should know, but if you don't, you can find it. All you have to do is to ask the court in the jurisdiction where you live — and they can tell you, or find out for you.

Then, using this book, look up the state where your juvenile record is kept, to see if that state has a “seal” or “expunge” law. There are very few that do not.

Then, using this book, look at the “eligibility requirements” of that state to see if you currently qualify to file your motion.

An example would be, if you live in Indiana, and you are over 22 years old, and you have a juvenile record, you are eligible to file a motion for “sealing” your record. You would see that the sealing is “mandated,” (the court must seal your record), but only after you have made the motion to seal it to the court. If you don't file the motion, the record stays as it is.

Then, using the “sample” motion supplied in this book, type your own motion, using the words “seal” or “expunge” as they appear on the “eligibility requirements”. Always double-space. Follow the instructions in every space that has a line and parentheses (address, name, etc.).

When you have the motion ready to file, you can either take it or mail it to the juvenile court that has control of your juvenile record. Do this for every state that has a juvenile arrest record on you.

Before you file your motion, try to get a copy of your sentencing minutes, or release from probation, or letters from friends and relatives or employers to recommend your sealing or expungement. Always make and keep copies! Send copies of everything

Steps To Take To Clear Your Record

63

— but make sure the court gets the original motion — Notarized — to the juvenile court(s) that have your juvenile records. Always send an Order with your motion — a sample is supplied here to help.

If there is a court fee or filing fee, and you cannot afford it, ask the court for papers to fill out so that you can file your motion in “forma pauperis” — for free. You will have to prove that you’re broke.

You will be representing yourself in court — without a lawyer. If you have supplied the court with all the information demanded, you probably will not have to say anything. As a matter of fact, in juvenile matters, most of the court’s decisions are made in the judge’s chambers, not in open court.

But, be prepared to go to the court if the judge orders a hearing. Bring all of your papers. Think about what you can tell the judge that will make him/her decide to grant your motion and seal or expunge your juvenile record. Think about who could go with you to talk to the judge for you. Bring any school awards, or work awards, or anything that makes you look good. Be respectful but convincing.

After the hearing, you will know what happened if you are there. If you had to mail your motion, you will have to wait for the judge to make a decision on your case, and receive the decision in your mail.

This is not nearly as complicated as it sounds. But it’s important enough to try, isn’t it?

If all else fails, hire a lawyer. Get rid of your juvenile criminal arrest record — no matter what you have to do. This book works — use it.

The Contents and "Disposition" of Your Juvenile Record

"Disposition," for legal purposes, is the end result of all phases of a case. For example, there is the investigation and arrest phase, trial phase, pre-sentence investigation phase, and sentencing phase. The final outcome of the sentencing phase is the final disposition. Basically, it's "what happened" in the end. Juvenile criminal history "Rap Sheets" are supposed to have final dispositions on them — but a lot of them don't. Problems arise when an agency other than the one that has your record requests a copy of your record — and no final disposition appears — to them it means that your case is still "Pending" — it's not over yet. They don't know the difference. And many, many criminal records, both juvenile and adult, are "disseminated" (given to other law enforcement agencies) without final dispositions on them. The harm comes when your case was either dismissed, or set aside, and your record does not have that information.

There are only three states which require that dispositions be included in juvenile records which are "disclosed" (allowed to be viewed by someone). That is equal to saying only three states require that the whole truth be sent to law enforcement agencies that get copies of your juvenile record. All of the others can send just your charges. In California, both the Department of Justice and local law enforcement agencies are required to include disposition of an arrest or the taking into custody on juvenile records. Arizona law requires that the juvenile court release the dispositions of juvenile arrests, as well as referrals and complaints, when the records of a juvenile are released to other law enforcement agencies, prosecutors, or the juvenile's attorney. When law enforcement agencies in Pennsylvania disclose (show) the content of juvenile records, they are also required to "show" the disposition of the case. Giving law enforcement agencies a juvenile record without a disposition is like giving them half of the information — and they don't know the difference — so they make a "guess," and usually it's wrong.

Only two states have statutory procedures which permit the individual (you) to audit (look at) his own juvenile record. In Indiana, the record subject (you) may request modifications (changes) to his record if it is wrong.

Washington law sets forth a two-step, self-audit procedure in which the court must first grant the individual (you) the authority to inspect the record. After the inspection, the individual (you) must make a second motion to the court to have the record corrected. However, now you're an adult — and you have adult rights and can use them.

There are several ways as an adult that you can get a copy of your juvenile record. The Freedom of Information Act is one way. A motion for discovery is another. The Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) 28, Part 20, under "Dispositions" is yet another. State laws governing "challenge" of a record are still one more. You're not a "juvenile" anymore by law — use the law to get what you want. See the part of this book on adult criminal records — "dispositions."

The difference between “SEALING” and

To “SEAL” means to remove the record from the only to the court. All others must destroy it.

To “EXPUNGE” a record means to destroy it entirely.

Conclusion

Remember, this is a “do-it-yourself” book. It is important that you follow the steps and directions — and see where they lead you. In most cases, it will be simple. Some cases — regardless of what you do — will require the expertise of private legal counsel.

This book is meant to do two things — help you realize the ramifications of a juvenile record and the harm it can cause in your future, and help you turn it around and get started out in adulthood on the right track.

Most of us that have had a juvenile record know by now that it is in our younger years that we made the mistakes that were called “crimes” by society — but it was in the later years that we made the mistakes “intentional” — as adults. Our juvenile criminal records were used as a “springboard” into an adult life of crime. This is your chance to change that.

It may well be your one, your only, your last chance to do something about it. For your own sake, do it now.

As a man who knows only too well what a criminal record can do to a lifetime, I can only say that I wish someone had written the combined version of How To Clear Your Adult And Juvenile Criminal Records years ago — then maybe I could have had the chance that I’m giving you to live your dreams....

Important Information To The Users Of This Book

It has been the experience of the author of this book that not all law enforcement agencies expunge criminal records even after they have been ordered to by the Court. I have known law enforcement agencies to even lie about having received an Order To Expunge, and some just say that they "haven't gotten around to it." Either way, your record remains out there for people to see. Some just refuse to expunge it — in direct disobedience of a court order.

So, what do you do when that happens? You have your Order To Expunge or Seal your criminal record from the Court, the Clerks of Court have sent the Order to all law enforcement agencies that have your criminal record, but you go back and check again and find that your record is still there, and still causing you trouble.

There is a little known United States Department of Justice Regulations (unknown to most law enforcement agencies, lawyers, judges, and just about everybody) that deals with the "disposition" of criminal records. The disposition is how a case on the record stands at any given time. If its been ordered to be expunged, it shouldn't appear at all. If its been ordered to be sealed, it should state "Sealed" on law enforcement agencies' records.

Simply put, the Department of Justice *demand*s to know, within 120 days, if anything has changed on any criminal records. If your record still appears after 120 days, your law enforcement agency is in violation of a federal regulation — (enclosed here), for not expunging your records, and not notifying the FBI to also expunge or seal your record.

There are a couple of things that you can do — now that you are aware of the federal regulation, and the law enforcement agency that didn't expunge or seal your record is blissfully ignorant. I've gotten results either way I went. (And I "went" more than a few times.)

1. You can write a letter to the law enforcement agency that has not expunged your record within the required 120 days, and threaten to file a lawsuit against them — and take copies of your Order To Expunge to the U.S. Attorney and ask for Federal Sanctions against them for violating the Federal Requirements of Dispositions. With your letter, send a copy of the 28 CFR part §20. Found here. No law enforcement agency wants to be fined $10,000, but they especially don't want to lose federal funding. In most cases, just do this.

2. You can get another copy of your FBI record, and if your record is still appears, challenge it! Make the FBI question the law enforcement agency that was supposed to expunge your record, but didn't.

Important Information To The Users Of This Book

You will get a copy of the response that the law enforcement agency makes to the FBI. (This is usually where you find out that they deny ever having received an Order To Expunge — and they are lying to the FBI.)

3. You can file a civil action against the law enforcement agency that has not expunged your record in federal court. Under the 1983 Civil Rights Bill, if the law enforcement agency has not expunged your records you still do not have the civil rights that the Court restored to you in the Order To Expunge.

4. You can sue the law enforcement agency itself for violating right-to-privacy statutes, defamation of character, malfeasance in office, loss of civil rights by negligence, and failure to perform duties, in a state court, because you're protected by state laws as well as federal regulations.

Yes, I have done all of these things. No, nothing ever got to court — I always received notification that the record was expunged before it ever got to court. Yes, this works.

And it’s not worth the paper it’s written on.

WISCONSIN: Wisconsin has no statutes to expunge or seal juvenile records by law. It is expressly forbidden to expunge or seal those records in the Wisconsin statutes. Wisconsin does, however, have an adult statute that allows you to obtain and copy your records — (Wisconsin Statutes

If it were me, I would submit a motion to the adult court for a copy of my juvenile record — and if it were turned down I would submit a letter to the U.S. Attorney General's Office for denial of Freedom of Information Act information — (Wisconsin has no statute for that, either). Then with the record attached, I would file a motion to expunge the juvenile record under the above statute to expunge the juvenile record — in the adult court. If that were to be denied, I would appeal on certiorari directly to the Wisconsin State Supreme Court.

Right to Challenge: The right to an administrative proceeding in which an individual (you) may contest the accuracy or completeness of his or her criminal history record.

Right To State Non-Existence of Record: The right to indicate in response to public or private inquiries the absence of your criminal history in cases of arrest not leading to conviction, or when your conviction record has been purged.

Sealing Conviction Information: The removal from active files of individual (your) criminal history information indicating a conviction.

Sealing Non-Conviction Information: The removal of criminal history information from active files where no conviction has resulted from the event (arrest) triggering the collection of the information.

Set-Aside: To put aside an arrest until the court decides what to do with it, i.e., to see if a subsequent arrest takes place within a short period of time. The arrest is not recorded, nor disseminated. In Michigan, there is no access to juvenile records, therefore, there is no need for expungement/sealing laws. "Set Aside" is the same as Nolle Prosequi, not prosecuted.

Regarding Disclosure of FBI Records To Subject

[Order 556-73]

Part 16 — Production Or Disclosure Of Material Or Information

Subpart C — Production of FBI Identification Records in Response to Written Requests by Subjects Thereof

By order dated September 24, 1973, the Attorney General of the United States directed that the Federal Bureau of Investigation, hereinafter referred to as the FBI, publish rules for the dissemination of arrest and conviction records to the subjects of such records upon request. This order resulted from a determination that 28. U.S.C. 534 does not prohibit the subjects of arrest and conviction records from having access to those records. In accordance with the Attorney General's order, the FBI will release to the subjects of identification records copies of such records upon submission of a written request, satisfactory proof of identity of the person whose identification record is requested and a processing fee of $18.00.

How To Clear Your Adult And Juvenile Criminal Records

Since the FBI Identification Division is not the source of the data appearing in identification records, and obtains all data thereon from fingerprint cards or related identification forms submitted to the FBI by local, state, and Federal agencies, the responsibility for authentication and correction of such data rests upon the contributing agencies. Therefore, the rules set forth for changing, correcting or updating such data require that the subject of an identification record make application to the original contributing agency in order to correct the deficiency complained of.

The relevant provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U.S.C. 553) requiring notice of proposed rule making, opportunity for public participation and delay in effective date are inapplicable because the material contained herein relates to the interpretation of 28 U.S.C. 534 as allowing the granting of an exemption to subjects of identification records and relief of prior administrative restrictions on dissemination of such records to them. Furthermore, it is deemed in the public interest that there be no delay in effective date of availability of identification records to the subjects thereof.

By virtue of the order of the Attorney General, dated September 24, 1973, and pursuant to the authority delegated to the Director, FBI by 28 CFR 0.85(b), Part 16 of 28 CFR Chapter I, is amended by adding the following new Subpart C:

§ 16.30 Purpose and scope

The subpart contains the regulations of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, hereafter referred to as the FBI, concerning procedures to be followed when the subject of an identification record requests production thereof. It also contains the procedures for obtaining any change, correction or updating of such record.

§ 16.31 Definition of identification record

Appendix Three
Rules And Regulations

99

An FBI identification record, often referred to as a "rap sheet," is a listing of certain information taken from fingerprint cards submitted to and retained by the FBI in connection with arrests and, in some instances, includes information taken from fingerprint cards submitted in connection with Federal employment, naturalization, or military service. The identification record includes the name of the agency or institution which submitted the fingerprint card to the FBI. If the fingerprint card concerns a criminal offense, the identification record includes the date arrested or disposition of the arrest if known to the FBI. All arrest data included in an identification record are obtained from fingerprint cards, disposition reports and other reports submitted by agencies having criminal justice responsibilities. Therefore, the FBI Identification Division is not the source of the arrest data reflected on an identification record.

§ 16.32 Procedure to obtain an identification record

The subject of an identification record may obtain a copy thereof by submitting a written request via the U.S. mails directly to FBI, Identification Division, Room 10104, Washington, D.C. 20537-9700, or may present his/her written request in person during regular business hours to the FBI Identification Division, J. Edgar Hoover FBI Building, Tenth Street and Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. Such request must be accompanied by satisfactory proof of identity, which shall consist of name, date and place of birth and a set of rolled-ink fingerprint impressions placed upon fingerprint cards for forms commonly utilized for applicant of law enforcement purposes by law enforcement agencies.

§ 16.33 Fee for production of identification records

Each written request for production of an identification record must be accompanied by a fee of $18.00 in the form of a certified check or money order, payable to the Treasury of the United States. This fee is established pursuant to the provision of 31 U.S.C. 9701 and is based upon the clerical time beyond the first quarter hour to be spent in searching for, identifying, and reproducing each identification record requested as specified in for waiver of the fee shall accompany the original request for the identification record and shall include a claim and proof of indigence.

Effective 5-1-95

§ 16.34 Procedure to obtain change, correction or updating of identification records

If, after reviewing his/her identification record, the subject thereof believes that it is incorrect or incomplete in any respect and wishes changes, corrections or updating of the alleged deficiency, he/she should make application directly to the agency which contributed the questioned information. The subject of a record may also direct his/her challenge as to the accuracy or completeness of any entry on his/her challenges of any entry on his/her record to the Assistant Director of the FBI Identification Divisions, Washington, D.C. 20537-9700. The FBI will then forward the challenge to the agency which submitted the data requesting that agency to verify or correct the challenged entry. Upon the receipt of an official communication directly from the agency which contributed the original information, the FBI Identification Division will make any changes necessary in accordance with the information supplied by that agency.

Published in the Federal Register on 11/28/73; amended on 10/27/78, 10/27/81, 8/8/83, 5/6/86, 5/17/91, and 1/3/95.

In Regards To Author's Current Record

The author's definition of "cleared" criminal records is that they are either expunged, sealed, or pardoned with the restoration of all civil rights. "Pardon," in some cases, may not seem to be enough, but there are limits to what can be done to criminal records — and I've pushed them as far as I can go. What has been "do-able," I have done to the maximum. Cleaning up a seven-page, 32-entry FBI "rap sheet" hasn't been that easy, especially when I have done it alone.

The author has four pardons for two felony convictions. One of those has been expunged. The author has expunged numerous misdemeanors, and continues to delete entries from his files. The reader would do well to remember that the only existing felony conviction that the author has now has been duplicated, thanks to the Ohio Department of Corrections. It's still illegal for it to appear at all. But even at that, the Ohio felony conviction has a full pardon, and an additional Relief From

102

Disability. No one has more civil rights than I. In August, 1996, the "OWI 1st" was expunged from all my records.

Let's take a look at the author's FBI record as it now stands. There are five entries — two pages. One felony, three misdemeanors.

The first entry is a dupliate of another entry. The first entry has been pardoned, and Relieved From Disability, which means the record does not mean anything — the "disability" of the record (or loss of rights) does not exist.

The second entry is nothing but a statement that I was picked up in Nashville, and held for transportation back to Ohio — no crime was committed.

The third entry is a duplicate of #1.

The fourth entry, from Tucson, Arizona, was a charge that was ordered quashed or annulled, which means that it was never prosecuted — and is expungable.

The fifth entry is a misdemeanor in which the charges were dropped.

That's it. Nothing else. One entry that is no arrest or conviction — Nashville. One entry that was dismissed — Louisiana. One entry that was quashed (or annulled) — Arizona. One entry that is duplicated — with full pardon — Ohio. NONE of these entries mean anything. From where I stand, this is a "clear" record.
